RICHARDSON, M. L., M.D.
ROBB, HUNTER, M.D.
ROBINSON, BEVERLY, M.D.
ROBINSON, T. J., M.D.
ROBY, W. H., JR., M.D.
ROTCH, T. M., M.D.
SANBORN, B. T., M.D.
SCUDDER, C. L., M.D.
SEARS, GEO. G., M.D.
SMITH, T., M.D.
SMITH, WM. H., M.D.
SPEAR, E. D., M.D.
STANDISH, MYLES, M.D.
STEELE, J. D., M.D.
STONE, I. S., M.D.
STORER, M., M.D.
STRONG, L. W., M.D.
SWAIN, H. L., M.D.
SWAIN, H. T., M.D.
TAYLOR, E. W., M.D.
TAYLOR, F. W., M.D.
THAYER, W. S., M.D.
THORNDIKE, PAUL, M.D.
TOWLE, H. P., M.D.
TRACY, E. A., M.D.
TYSON, JAMES, M.D.
VEJUX-TYRODE, M., M.D.
VINEBERG, H. N., M. D.
WALSH, J. J., M.D.
WALTON, GEO. L., M.D.
WARREN, JOHN, M.D.
WARREN, J. C., M. D.
WATERMAN, G. A., M. D.
WATSON, F. S., M.D.
WEBB, R., ESQ.
WENTWORTH, A. H., M.D.
WHITE, C. J., M.D.
WHITE, W. H., M.D.
WILKINS, G. C., M.D.
WILLIAMS, F. H., M.D.
WILSON, R. N., M.D.
WITHINGTON, C. F., M.D.
WORCESTER, ALFRED, M.D.
YOUNG, C. D., M.D.

INDEX TO VOLUME CXLVII.

Abbe, R. Abdominal route for approaching rectal tumors, 107.
Abbott, S. W. Legislation, with reference to smallpox and vaccination, 263.
Abdominal Surgery. The choice between the suprapubic and the infrapubic methods of reaching tumors and other surgical lesions of the pelvic organs, Richardson, M. H., 107; abdominal route for approaching rectal tumors, Abbé, R., 107; complications following gastro-enterostomy, Mayo, W. J., 109; pyloroplasty, with report of a new method, Finney, J. M. T., 109; closure of suppurating abdominal wounds following laparotomies, Harris, P. A., 495; segmented ring for intestinal anastomosis, Harrington, F. B., 521.
Abrahamson, I. A tumor formation in the region of the coccyx, 647; report of a case of spinal cord tumor operated on, 648.
Adenitis. An epidemic of non-suppurative cervical adenitis, Langmaid, S. W., 160.
Æsculapius. The Temple of Æsculapius, 687.
Alcohol. The nutritive value of alcohol, Benedict, F. G., 31; the basis for the use of alcohol in therapeutics, Cushny, A. B., 34; the influence of alcohol upon infection and its use in the treatment of acute infectious diseases, Meltser, S. J., 39, 66; the common use of alcohol as a beverage, 43; an anti-alcohol maniac, 655.
Aldrich, N. B. Appendicitis and seeds, 447.
Allen, C. W. The value of radiotherapy in cutaneous and other cancers, 548; results in fifty cases of cancer treated with the aid of the Roentgen rays, 624.
Allen, S. X-ray treatment of malignant disease, 431; a probable myxofibroma of the nose, 542.
Alps. Alpine accidents, 339.
Anatomy. Demonstration of a model of the thoracic and abdominal viscera prepared from a human subject hardened in formalin, Warren J., 177.
Anders, H. S. Atmospheric pressure and epidemic influenza in Philadelphia, 250.
Anders, J. M. Tuberculous myocarditis, 51.
Anemia. The changes in the spinal cord and medulla in pernicious anemia, Billings, F., 225, 257; some cases which were not pernicious anemia, Morse, J. C., 587.
"Animal Mechanics." Wyman, M., 502.
Animals. The study of animal diseases, 113.
Ankle. Remarks on arthrodesis of the ankle for infantile paralysis, Dane, J., 306.
Antitoxin, or better nursing, 471.
Appendicitis. From a physician's standpoint, Tyson, J., 51; a case of subphrenic abscess on the left side following appendectomy, Darling, E. A., 70; the bibliography of appendicitis, 114; carcinoma limited to the appendix vermiformis: discussion of its origin and its relation to appendicitis, Harte, R. H., and Wilson, R. N., 134; appendicitis complicating pregnancy, with report of case, removal of gangrenous appendix at three and one-half months' delivery at term, Donoghue, F. D., 272, 276; as an American disease, 338; ultimate results of operations for appendicitis, Gage, H., 395; leucocytosis as an indication for operation in appendicitis, Small, R. D., 438.
Appendicitis and Seeds. Aldrich, N. B., 447.
Appendix. The normal appendix: its length, its mesentery, and its position or direction as observed in six hundred and fifty-six autopsies, Monks, G. H., and Blake, J. B., 581.
Arm. The passive carrying function of the arm, its importance, its destruction and an operation for its restoration, Hoffmann, P., 333.
Army. Annual report of the surgeon-general of the army, 551.
Ashby, T. A. A case of wandering spleen packed in the pelvis, complicated by typhoid fever; splenectomy, with recovery, 462.
Autogenous Diseases. Vaughan, V. C., 51.
Bacteriology. A new method of staining sputum for bacteriological examination, Smith, W. H., 659; eleven acute and eighteen chronic cases of influenza, Lord, F. T., 662; bacteriology as an aid to diagnosis, 685.
Bailey, P. Successful laminectomy for spinal cord tumor, 647.
Bailey, W. T. Cryoscopy, 612.
Barber-Surgeons. Taylor, F. W., 533, 557.
Bartol, J. W. Report of progress in thoracic disease, 382.
Bellevue Hospital. Report on the condition of Bellevue Hospital, 308.
Benedict, F. G. The nutritive value of alcohol, 31.
Berlin. Smallpox in Berlin, 652.
Bibliography. Abel, C., gynecological pathology, 573; Allen, C. W., the Practitioner's Manual, 111; Ames, A., elementary hygiene for the tropics, 598; appendicitis, the bibliography of, 114; Bacon, G., a manual of otology, 110; Beck, C., die Röntgenstrahlen im dienste der chirurgie, 597; Boyd, F. W., Gibson and Russell's physical diagnosis, 335; Brouardel, P., and Benham, F. L., death and sudden death, 550; Brownell, I. N., anatomy and histology of the mouth and teeth, 496; Bunge, G., text book of physiological and pathological chemistry, 497; Byford, H. T., manual of gynecology, 650; Carter, H. R., the methods of the conveyance of yellow fever infection, 441; Chapin, H. D., the theory and practice of infant feeding with notes on development, 625; Chayne, W. W., a manual of surgical treatment, 468; Crile, G. W., an experimental and clinical research into certain problems relating to surgical operations, 138; Crothers, T. D., morphinism and narcomaniacs from other drugs, 83; Davis, E. P., mother and child, 334; Davis, G. G., the principles and practice of bandaging, 467; Dürck, H., atlas and epitome of special pathologic histology, 625; Fagge, C. H., and Pye-Smith, P. H., text book of medicine, 497; Gaylord, H. R., and Aschoff, L., the principles of pathological histology, 573; Gleason, E. B., Saunders's question compends, 625; Gradle, H., diseases of the nose, pharynx and ear, 598; Grant, H., a text book of surgical principles and surgical diseases of the face, mouth and jaws, 495; Grayson, C. P., diseases of the nose, throat and ear, 680; Greeff, R., a guide to the microscopic examination of the eye, 442; Grindon, J., Lea's series of pocket text books, 550; Haig, A., diet and food, 497; Hare, H. A., practical diagnosis, 550; a text book of practical therapeutics, 681; Head, G. P., the practical medicine series of year books, 469; Heath, C., a manual of minor surgery and bandaging, 468; Hektoen, L., and Riesman, D., an American text book of pathology, 572; Hemmeter, J. C., diseases of the intestines, 624, 681; Hopkins, S. A., the care of the teeth, 651; Hopkins, W. B., the roller bandage, 469; Horridge, F., dynamic aspects of nutrition and heredity, 111; Hughes, A. W., a manual of practical anatomy, 83; Jewett, C., the practice of obstetrics, 52; Judson, C. F., and Gittings, J. C., the artificial feeding of infants, 138; Kayser, R., anleitung zur diagnose und therapie der kehlkopf-nasenund ohren krankheiten, 681; Keay, J. H., the medical treatment of gall stones, 468; Kelsey, C. B., the surgery of the rectum, 138; Koplik, H., the diseases of infancy and childhood, 651; Le Fevre, E., a text book of physical diagnosis, 550; Lehmann, K. B., atlas and principles of bacteriology, and text book of special bacteriologic diagnosis, 598; medical news visiting list for 1903, 573; medi-

RICHARDSON, M. L., M.D.
ROBB, HUNTER, M.D.
ROBINSON, BEVERLY, M.D.
ROBINSON, T. J., M.D.
ROBY, W. H., JR., M.D.
ROTCH, T. M., M.D.
SANBORN, B. T., M.D.
SCUDDER, C. L., M.D.
SEARS, GEO. G., M.D.
SMITH, T., M.D.
SMITH, WM. H., M.D.
SPEAR, E. D., M.D.
STANDISH, MYLES, M.D.
STEELE, J. D., M.D.
STONE, I. S., M.D.
STORER, M., M.D.
STRONG, L. W., M.D.
SWAIN, H. L., M.D.
SWAIN, H. T., M.D.
TAYLOR, E. W., M.D.
TAYLOR, F. W., M.D.
THAYER, W. S., M.D.
THORNDIKE, PAUL, M.D.
TOWLE, H. P., M.D.
TRACY, E. A., M.D.
TYSON, JAMES, M.D.
VEJUX-TYRODE, M., M.D.
VINEBERG, H. N., M. D.
WALSH, J. J., M.D.
WALTON, GEO. L., M.D.
WARREN, JOHN, M.D.
WARREN, J. C., M. D.
WATERMAN, G. A., M. D.
WATSON, F. S., M.D.
WEBB, R., ESQ.
WENTWORTH, A. H., M.D.
WHITE, C. J., M.D.
WHITE, W. H., M.D.
WILKINS, G. C., M.D.
WILLIAMS, F. H., M.D.
WILSON, R. N., M.D.
WITHINGTON, C. F., M.D.
WORCESTER, ALFRED, M.D.
YOUNG, C. D., M.D.

INDEX TO VOLUME CXLVII.

Abbe, R. Abdominal route for approaching rectal tumors, 107.
Abbott, S. W. Legislation, with reference to smallpox and vaccination, 263.
Abdominal Surgery. The choice between the suprapubic and the infrapubic methods of reaching tumors and other surgical lesions of the pelvic organs, Richardson, M. H., 107; abdominal route for approaching rectal tumors, Abbé, R., 107; complications following gastro-enterostomy, Mayo, W. J., 109; pyloroplasty, with report of a new method, Finney, J. M. T., 109; closure of suppurating abdominal wounds following laparotomies, Harris, P. A., 495; segmented ring for intestinal anastomosis, Harrington, F. B., 521.
Abrahamson, I. A tumor formation in the region of the coccyx, 647; report of a case of spinal cord tumor operated on, 648.
Adenitis. An epidemic of non-suppurative cervical adenitis, Langmaid, S. W., 160.
Æsculapius. The Temple of Æsculapius, 687.
Alcohol. The nutritive value of alcohol, Benedict, F. G., 31; the basis for the use of alcohol in therapeutics, Cushny, A. B., 34; the influence of alcohol upon infection and its use in the treatment of acute infectious diseases, Meltser, S. J., 39, 66; the common use of alcohol as a beverage, 43; an anti-alcohol maniac, 655.
Aldrich, N. B. Appendicitis and seeds, 447.
Allen, C. W. The value of radiotherapy in cutaneous and other cancers, 548; results in fifty cases of cancer treated with the aid of the Roentgen rays, 624.
Allen, S. X-ray treatment of malignant disease, 431; a probable myxofibroma of the nose, 542.
Alps. Alpine accidents, 339.
Anatomy. Demonstration of a model of the thoracic and abdominal viscera prepared from a human subject hardened in formalin, Warren J., 177.
Anders, H. S. Atmospheric pressure and epidemic influenza in Philadelphia, 250.
Anders, J. M. Tuberculous myocarditis, 51.
Anemia. The changes in the spinal cord and medulla in pernicious anemia, Billings, F., 225, 257; some cases which were not pernicious anemia, Morse, J. C., 587.
"Animal Mechanics." Wyman, M., 502.
Animals. The study of animal diseases, 113.
Ankle. Remarks on arthrodesis of the ankle for infantile paralysis, Dane, J., 306.
Antitoxin, or better nursing, 471.
Appendicitis. From a physician's standpoint, Tyson, J., 51; a case of subphrenic abscess on the left side following appendectomy, Darling, E. A., 70; the bibliography of appendicitis, 114; carcinoma limited to the appendix vermiformis: discussion of its origin and its relation to appendicitis, Harte, R. H., and Wilson, R. N., 134; appendicitis complicating pregnancy, with report of case, removal of gangrenous appendix at three and one-half months' delivery at term, Donoghue, F. D., 272, 276; as an American disease, 338; ultimate results of operations for appendicitis, Gage, H., 395; leucocytosis as an indication for operation in appendicitis, Small, R. D., 438.
Appendicitis and Seeds. Aldrich, N. B., 447.
Appendix. The normal appendix: its length, its mesentery, and its position or direction as observed in six hundred and fifty-six autopsies, Monks, G. H., and Blake, J. B., 581.
Arm. The passive carrying function of the arm, its importance, its destruction and an operation for its restoration, Hoffmann, P., 333.
Army. Annual report of the surgeon-general of the army, 551.
Ashby, T. A. A case of wandering spleen packed in the pelvis, complicated by typhoid fever; splenectomy, with recovery, 462.
Autogenous Diseases. Vaughan, V. C., 51.
Bacteriology. A new method of staining sputum for bacteriological examination, Smith, W. H., 659; eleven acute and eighteen chronic cases of influenza, Lord, F. T., 662; bacteriology as an aid to diagnosis, 685.
Bailey, P. Successful laminectomy for spinal cord tumor, 647.
Bailey, W. T. Cryoscopy, 612.
Barber-Surgeons. Taylor, F. W., 533, 557.
Bartol, J. W. Report of progress in thoracic disease, 382.
Bellevue Hospital. Report on the condition of Bellevue Hospital, 308.
Benedict, F. G. The nutritive value of alcohol, 31.
Berlin. Smallpox in Berlin, 652.
Bibliography. Abel, C., gynecological pathology, 573; Allen, C. W., the Practitioner's Manual, 111; Ames, A., elementary hygiene for the tropics, 598; appendicitis, the bibliography of, 114; Bacon, G., a manual of otology, 110; Beck, C., die Röntgenstrahlen im dienste der chirurgie, 597; Boyd, F. W., Gibson and Russell's physical diagnosis, 335; Brouardel, P., and Benham, F. L., death and sudden death, 550; Brownell, I. N., anatomy and histology of the mouth and teeth, 496; Bunge, G., text book of physiological and pathological chemistry, 497; Byford, H. T., manual of gynecology, 650; Carter, H. R., the methods of the conveyance of yellow fever infection, 441; Chapin, H. D., the theory and practice of infant feeding with notes on development, 625; Chayne, W. W., a manual of surgical treatment, 468; Crile, G. W., an experimental and clinical research into certain problems relating to surgical operations, 138; Crothers, T. D., morphinism and narcomaniacs from other drugs, 83; Davis, E. P., mother and child, 334; Davis, G. G., the principles and practice of bandaging, 467; Dürck, H., atlas and epitome of special pathologic histology, 625; Fagge, C. H., and Pye-Smith, P. H., text book of medicine, 497; Gaylord, H. R., and Aschoff, L., the principles of pathological histology, 573; Gleason, E. B., Saunders's question compends, 625; Gradle, H., diseases of the nose, pharynx and ear, 598; Grant, H., a text book of surgical principles and surgical diseases of the face, mouth and jaws, 495; Grayson, C. P., diseases of the nose, throat and ear, 680; Greeff, R., a guide to the microscopic examination of the eye, 442; Grindon, J., Lea's series of pocket text books, 550; Haig, A., diet and food, 497; Hare, H. A., practical diagnosis, 550; a text book of practical therapeutics, 681; Head, G. P., the practical medicine series of year books, 469; Heath, C., a manual of minor surgery and bandaging, 468; Hektoen, L., and Riesman, D., an American text book of pathology, 572; Hemmeter, J. C., diseases of the intestines, 624, 681; Hopkins, S. A., the care of the teeth, 651; Hopkins, W. B., the roller bandage, 469; Horridge, F., dynamic aspects of nutrition and heredity, 111; Hughes, A. W., a manual of practical anatomy, 83; Jewett, C., the practice of obstetrics, 52; Judson, C. F., and Gittings, J. C., the artificial feeding of infants, 138; Kayser, R., anleitung zur diagnose und therapie der kehlkopf-nasenund ohren krankheiten, 681; Keay, J. H., the medical treatment of gall stones, 468; Kelsey, C. B., the surgery of the rectum, 138; Koplik, H., the diseases of infancy and childhood, 651; Le Fevre, E., a text book of physical diagnosis, 550; Lehmann, K. B., atlas and principles of bacteriology, and text book of special bacteriologic diagnosis, 598; medical news visiting list for 1903, 573; medical record visiting list or physicians' diary for 1903, 599; Leuf, A. H. P., gynecology, obstetrics, menopause, 680; Murphy, J. B., general surgery, 251; New Jersey, twenty-fifth annual report of the board of health of the state of New Jersey, and report of the bureau of vital statistics, 441; Newsholme, A., hygiene, a manual of personal and public health, 442; Nothnagel's encyclopedia of practical medicine, Northrup, W. P., and Jurgensen, T. von, 442; Ostrom, K. W., massage and the original Swedish movements, 335; Paget, S., selected essays and addresses, 52; Peterson, R., the practical medicine series of year books, obstetrics, 53; Poland, J., a retrospect of surgery during the past century, 468; Porter, W. T., an introduction to physiology, 441; practical medicine series of year books, 572; public and the doctor, 497; Quain's Dictionary of Medicine, 598; Reid, G. A., alcoholism, 83; Rosenau, M. J., disinfection and disinfectants, 496; Rosenberg, L. J., and Aronstam, N. E., sociologic studies of a medico-legal nature, 496; Saunders' American year-book, 388; Savage, G. C., ophthalmic myology, 441; Schleif, W., Lea's series of pocket text books, 550; Schmidt, L. E., the medical epitome series, 625; Stelwagon, H. W., treatise on diseases of the skin, 526; Sultan, G., atlas and epitome of abdominal hernias, 467; Taylor J. J., the physician's pocket account book, 625; Thompson, H. C., acute dilatation of the stomach, 468; Tyson, J., manual of physical diagnosis, 53; Vaughan, V. C., and Novy, F. G., cellular toxins, 469; Walters, F. R., sanatoria for consumption, 416; Wharton, H. R., minor surgery and bandaging, 250; Williams, C. T., the climates and baths of Great Britain, 334; Winternitz, W., a system of physiologic therapeutics, hydrotherapy, thermotherapy, heliotherapy and phototherapy, 496; Witthaus, R. A., the medical student's manual of chemistry, 416; Wowwick, F. J., and Turnstall, A. C., first aid to the injured and sick, 110; Zuckerkandl, O., atlas and epitome of operative surgery, 468.

Billings, F. The changes in the spinal cord and medulla in pernicious anemia, 225, 257.

Biography. Abbott, J. H., 532; Andrews, B., 30; Asch, M. J., 447; Atkinson, R. T., 578; Baker, L. W., 688; Bell, R., 58; Bigelow, H. J., 194; Bowen, C. W., 448; Boynton, E. D., 58; Bradford, J., 196; Brewster, J. M., 476; Byrne, J., 422; Cameron, E. M., 422; Chadbourne, F. W., 256; Cook, E. H., 366; Cox, H. M., 556; Curry, W., 366; Cushing, H. J., 658; Dacosta, J. M., 656; Dooley, J. J., 688; Fleming, D. P., 88; Garland, G., 312, 340; Gibbs, E. N., 658; Gifford, S. S., 422; Harlow, E. A. W., 448; Haynes, W. H., 606; Hughes, D. E., 504; Jenks, E. P., 30; Johnson, C. H., 366; Johnston, W. G., 88, 114; Kearney, T. J., 394; Livermore, F., 606; Longnecker, J. H., 256; Martindale, F. L., 532; Matthews, H. C., 504; Mecuen, G. E., 504; Packard, F. A., 578; Patten, J. M., 366; Pease, D. P., 685; Peirce, J., 340; Phelps, A. M., 474, 447; Praeger, H. F., 30; Pultz, M. F., 340; Reed, W., 630; Richardson, J. H., 116; Rinaldo, C. I. di, 144; Ross, L. D., 284; Smith, H. M., 632; Sutphen, R. M., 312; Thum, F. W., 30; Tilden, J. N., 88; Urff, C. A. von, 116; Virchow, V., 307; Wade, J. D., 504; Walsh, P. D., 196; Ward, A., 88; Webster, C. B., 312; Whitehead, W. R., 476; Wilde, T., 448; Wilkie, M. V., 312; Williamson, N., 224; Young, W., 532; Zakrzewska, M. E., 604.

Bishop, L. F. The early circulatory indications of chronic Bright's disease, 49.

Blake, J. B. Operative treatment of varicose veins, 347, 356.

Blood. The influence of ozonation upon the blood, Curtis, G. L., 77; the clinical value of the iodine reaction in the leucocytes of the blood, Locke, E. A., 289; a report of the blood examination in the cases of severe burns of the skin, Locke, E. A., 480.

Bodine, J. A. Local anesthesia in radical cure for inguinal hernia, 621.

Booth, J. A. Exophthalmic goitre after thyroidectomy, 386.

Bovee, J. W. Operations on the uterosacral ligaments in the treatment of retroversion of the uterus, 466.

Bowen, J. T. Four forms of generalized exfoliative dermatitis, erythrodermies, exfoliantes, generalises (Besnier), 525.

Bradford, E. H. Causes of relapse after reduction of congenital dislocation of the hip, 332; simplification of the treatment of lateral curvature, 332; the simplification of the treatment of lateral curvature, 375, 402.

Brain. Successful brain tumor operations, 111.

Breck, S. Multiple fibroids of the uterus, 151, 157.

Brewer, G. E. A case of fatal acetonemia, following an operation for acute appendicitis, 82.

Brill, N. E. Paramyoclonus multiplex, 357.

Brown, O. J. Gunshot fatality, source of shooting, proved by examination of ammunition, 542.

Brown, P. The use of rubber splints in the treatment of curvature of the triangular cartilage, 162.

Browning, W. Pseudo-epilepsies and the relief of some forms by thyroid, 415.

Bryant, J. D. The teaching of surgery with special reference to the didactic method, 108.

Buck, A. W. A fatal case of mandrake poisoning, 543.

Bullard, J. T. Smallpox, its diagnosis, 207.

Bullard, W. N. Indications for operation in head injuries, 122; a case of poisoning by thallium, 589.

Burns, W. B. Malarial nephritis, with report of a case, 48.

Burrage, W. L. The present status of the operative treatment of cancer of the uterus, 91, 105; laceration of the cervix, uterus and pelvic floor, 464.

Burrell, H. L. The teaching of surgery, 108, 449, 477.

Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W. Report on the progress of surgery, 212, 241, 274, 302.

Burrell, H. L., Lovett, R. W., and Goldthwait, J. E. Report of cases from the second surgical service of The Children's Hospital, Boston, 45.

Bursa. The iliopsoas bursa: its surgical importance and the treatment of its inflammatory conditions, with report of three cases, Lund, F. B., 345, 355.

Burtenshaw, J. H. The principles involved in the repair of lacerations of the pelvic floor, 619.

Cabot, A. T. Pelvic cellulitis as a complication of uterine fibroids, 428; decapsulation of the kidneys, 456.

Cabot, H. A case of suture of divided ureter, recovery without leakage, 644.

Cæsarean Section. Treatment of placenta previa—cæsarean section not justifiable, Murray, R. A., 492.

California. The climatology of California, McAdie, A. G., 218; the climate of the eastern foothills of Southern California, Sanborn, C. A. 218, 247; the climatology of the mountains of Southern California, Lindly, W., 218; the coast resort of Southern California, Edwards, W. A., 247.

Canada. Canadian climates and health results, Hinsdale, G., 217.

Cancer. Remarks on cancer of the uterus, Richardson, M. H., 89, 105; the present status of the operative treatment of cancer of the uterus, Burrage, W. L., 91, 105; operation for cancer of the uterus, Reynolds, E., 95, 105; cancer of the uterus, Conant, W. M., 97, 105; in tropical countries, Dalgetty, 166; the alleged increase in cancer, 443.

Carney Hospital. A new out-patient department for the Carney Hospital, 627.

Chadwick, J. R. Annual oration before the Maine Medical Association, 423.

Cheever, D. W. Fees, 195.

Chemistry. Recent progress in pharmacology and physiological chemistry, Vejux-Tyrod, M., 488.

Chicago. Typhoid fever in Chicago, 446.

Children. The importance of milk analysis in infant feeding and empyema in children, Cotton, F. J., 63; some of the orthopedic conditions of the newborn demanding early surgical treatment, Painter, C. F., 296, 304; cirrhosis of the liver in childhood, Moore, J. L., 299; intestinal invagination in infants and children with the report of a case successfully treated by laparotomy, Cumston, C. G., 99, 104; report on the diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L., 153; child insurance, 164; contagious eye diseases in school children, 165; infantile paralysis, an epidemic of thirty-eight cases, Painter, C. F., 633; infant feeding, Emerson, E. B., 616; report on pediatrics, Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L., 702.

Cholera. Former epidemics of cholera, 530.

Christian, H. A. Ependymal epithelium as a constituent of a teratoma, 673.

Christian Science. An editorial symposium on Mrs. Eddy's latest pronunciamento, 603.

Circulatory System. The causal relation of blood poverty to gastric ulcer, with report of an illustrative case with atypical findings, Wilson, R. N, 23; the early circulatory indications of chronic Bright's disease, Bishop, L., 49; endocarditis as a complication of pneumonia, Wells, E. F., 50; venesection, Favill, H. B., 50; the employment of digitalis and aconite in the treatment of cardiac diseases, Hare, H. A., 50; tuberculous myocarditis, Anders, J. M., 51; etiology and prophylaxis of cardiac manifestations of articular rheumatism, Patton, J. M., 75; a modified radical operation for the cure of peripheral aneurisms, with reports of cases, Matas, R., 135; the influence of strychnine on the heart, Curtin, R. G., 216; the new and cardiac symptoms of high altitude, Swan, W. H., 249; report of progress in thoracic disease, Bartol, J. W., 382; the effects of exercise on the heart and circulation, Larrabee, R. C., 318, 328; operative treatment of varicose veins, Blake, J. B., 347, 356.

Cirrhosis. The symptoms and treatment of hepatic cirrhosis in the light of seventy-eight autopsies, Sears, G. G., and Lord, F. T., 285.

Clavicle. Report of a case of congenital deficiency of the clavicles with photogram and radiogram, Sherman, H. M., 305.

Cleveland. The Alexander operation, 465.

Climate. Of central Massachusetts, Getchell, A. C., 188; Canadian climate and health resorts, Hinsdale, G., 217; the climatology of California, McAdie, A. G., 218; the climate of the eastern forthills of Southern California, Sanborn, G. A., 218, 247; the climatology of the mountains of Southern California, Lindly, W., 218; the coast resorts of Southern California, Edwards, W. A., 247; altitude in fact and fancy, Sewall, H., 248; sanatorium treatment in Colorado, Solly, 248; impressions of differences in practice at low and high altitudes, Swan, W. H., 249; the nervous cardiac symptoms of high altitudes, Pearce, F. S., 249; atmospheric pressure and epidemic influenza in Philadelphia, Anders, H. S., 250.

Cobb, F. C. Leukoplakia, 162; 643.

Cobb, J. O. Point of election in pulmonary tuberculosis, 216.

Colds. Symposium on colds, etiology, Walsh, J. J., 619; symptomatology, Cott, G. F., 619; treatment, Smith, A. A., 619.

Coley, W. B. The influence of the Roentgen rays on the different varieties of sarcoma, 136.

Collins, J. Discussion on spinal cord tumors, 648.

Colorado. Sanatorium treatment in Colorado, Solly, 248.

Common Diseases. The teaching of common diseases, 528.

Conant, W. H. The modern operation for radical cure of umbilical hernia, 400, 411.

Conant, W. M. Cancer of the uterus, 97, 105.

Consciousness. A notable address on consciousness, 85.

Consumptives. Proposed new provisions for consumptives in Massachusetts, 220; resolve to provide for an investigation and a report by the State Board of Charity as to a new sanatorium for consumptives, 223.

Coryza. An old dietetic treatment of acute coryza, 683.

Cott, G. F. Symptomatology of colds, 619.

Cotton, F. J. Empyema in children, 63.

Crandon, L. R. G. Tuberculosis of the prostate, 17, 20; chronic laryngeal obstruction due to enlargement of the false cords; tracheotomy; later partial excision of false cords, 398.

Crowell, S. Suprapubic cystotomy, without distending the bladder, 323.

Cryoscopy. Bailey, W. T., 612.

Cuba. The sanitary condition of Cuba, 192.

Cumston, C. G. Intestinal invagination in infants and children, with the report of a case successfully treated by laparotomy, 99, 104.

Curtin, R. G. The influence of strychnine on the heart, 216.

Curtis, G. L. The influence of ozonation upon the blood, 77.

Cushny, A. B. The basis for the use of alcohol in therapeutics, 34.

Cutaneous System. A variety of skin lesions treated by x-ray, Meek, E. R., 152; leukoplakia, Cobb F. C., 162; vaccination eruptions, Towle, H. P., 269; a report of the blood examination in ten cases of severe burns of the skin, Locke, E. A., 480; the clinical study of four hundred and eighty-five cases of nail disease, White, C. J., 526, 537; the clinical aspect and treatment of some affections of the finger nails, Leviseur, F. J., 546; note on the histology of herpes zoster, Pollitzer, S., 546; report of a case of blastomycosis of the skin, Dyer, J., 546; a preliminary note on the frequency of pompholyx in New Orleans, Dyer, J., 546; ten cases of bullous dermatitis following vaccination, Howe, J. S., 524; an unusual case of epidermolysis bullosa hereditaria, Wende, G. W., 525; four forms of generalized exfoliative dermatitis, erythrodermies, exfoliantes, generalisees (Besnier), Bowen, J. T., 525; a critical review of Philippson's proposed reform of dermatology, Klotz, H. G., 526; a case of pellagra, Sherwell, S., 526; a clinical study of 485 cases of nail affections, White, C. J., 526; acne vulgaris, symptoms and treatment, Fox, G. H., 547; a case of cutaneous blastomycosis followed by laryngeal and systemic tuberculosis, Montgomery, F. H., 548; the value of radiotherapy in cutaneous and other cancers, Allen, C. W., 548; radiotherapeutic observations, Zeisler, J., 549; report of epithelioma of face cured by x-ray, Trowbridge, E. H., 701.

Cutler, E. G. Mediastinal lymphosarcoma with x-ray dermatitis, 455; Graves's disease with pigmentation, 455; trichiniasis, 456.

Dalgetty. Cancer in tropical countries, 166.
Dana, C. L. Hysteria major and its differentiation from organic disease, 413.
Dane, J. Remarks on arthrodesis of the ankle for infantile paralysis, 306.
Darling, E. A. A case of subphrenic abscess on the left side following appendectomy, 70; vaccination, the technique, 201.
Daubarn, H. M. Points in the control of emergency hemorrhage both medical and surgical, 623.
Davenport, F. H. The present state of the pessary in the treatment of displacements of the uterus, 145, 157; non-operative treatment of displacements of the uterus, 464.
Davis, E. P. Polyhydramnios: its differential diagnosis and treatment, with report of cases, 211; two conditions simulating ectopic gestation, 492.
Davis, G. G. An apparatus for paralysis of the extensors of the hands and fingers, 306.
Deaver, J. B. Abdominal hysterectomy, 81.
Denison, C. Remarks on intrathoracic pressure, with illustration of the author's method of lung immobilization, 190.
Denny, C. F. An appreciation of Dr. Henry J. Bigelow, 194.
Dentistry. Cysts connected with the teeth, Oliver, J. C., 137.
Derby, G. S. Professor Fuch's ophthalmological clinic, 392.
Diabetes. A case of neuritis in the course of diabetes, Packard, F. H., 324.
Diagnosis. On the teaching of physical diagnosis, Thayer, W. S., 689, 703
Digestive System. Amebic dysentery in Michigan, Dock, G., 22; the causal relation of blood poverty to gastric ulcer, with report of an illustrative case with atypical findings, Wilson, R. N., 23; an analysis of sixty-five cases of gastroptosis, Steele, J. D., and Francine, A. P., 75; report of a successful case of gunshot wound of the stomach and liver with posterior thorough drainage and recovery, Park, R., 78; the great importance of drainage in bullet wound of intraperitoneal viscera, Tiffany, L. M., 78; a case of fatal acetonemia following an operation for acute appendicitis, Brewer, G. E., 82; intestinal invagination in infants and children, with the report of a case successfully treated by laparotomy, Cumston, C. G., 99, 104; the choice between the suprapubic and the infrabulvic methods of reaching tumors, and other surgical lesions of the pelvic organs, Richardson, M. H., 107; abdominal route for approaching rectal tumors, Abbé, R., 107; complications following gastroenterostomy, Mayo, W. J., 109; pyloroplasty with report of a new method, Finney, J. M. T., 109; the bibliography of appendicitis, 114; tuberculosis of the intestine, 142; the etiology of summer diarrhea, 336; appendicitis as an American disease, 338; the creation of an artificial valvular fistula: (a) for the treatment of chronic colitis; (b) as an adjuvant to certain operations on the stomach, Gibson, C. L., 341, 355; ultimate results of operations for appendicitis, Gage, H., 395; tetany in gastric disorders, 561; the treatment of acute dysentery, Hunter, J. D., 578; the normal appendix, its length, its mesentery and its position or direction as observed in six hundred and fifty-six autopsies, Monks, G. H., and Blake, J. B., 581; six cases of rupture of the intestines with four recoveries, Lund, F. B., Nichols, E. H., and Bottomley, J. T., 584; tetany in gastric disorders, Strong, L. W., 591; infection with the bacillus of dysentery, with special reference to its rôle in the summer diarrheas of children, Flexner, S., 593; radical operations for the cure of cancer of the stomach, Mayo, W. J., 621; surgery of the stomach for the relief of non-malignant pathological conditions, Ochsner, A. J., 622.
Diphtheria bacilli in well persons, 277; abstract of report on diphtheria bacilli in well persons, 282; culture methods in diphtheria, Whittier, F. N., 438.
Dock, G. Amebic dysentery in Michigan, 22.
Donoghue, F. D. Appendicitis complicating pregnancy, with report of case, removal of gangrenous appendix at three and one-half months delivery at term, 272, 276.
Dust. The hygiene of dust, 389.
Dwight, E. W. Indications for operation in head injuries, 119.
Dyer, J. Report of a case of blastomycosis of the skin, 546; a preliminary note on the frequency of pompholyx in New Orleans, 546.
Early Training as a Medical Measure, 278.
Eddy. An editorial symposium on Mrs. Eddy's latest pronunciamento, 603.
Editorials. The illness of King Edward, 25; is Jane Toppan insane, 27; the repair of nerves, 53; summer work of the New York Health Department, 54; the physician of to-day, 55; the work of the Board of Health for the Philippine Islands, 84; a notable address on consciousness, 85; a "vaccination number," of the British Medical Journal, 86; Franklin District Medical Society, 86; successful brain tumor operations, 111; the need of a wider knowledge of language, 112; the study of animal diseases, 113; the aerial conveyance of smallpox, 139; medicine in relation to universities, 163; child insurance, 164; contagious eye diseases in school children, 165; the young physician, 191; the sanitary condition of Cuba, 192; the marine biological labratory at Wood's Hole, 219; the situation regarding specialism, 219; proposed new provisions for consumptives in Massachusetts, 220; the lower limit of age for school attendance, 251; noise, an element of damage, 252; diphtheria bacilli in well persons, 277; female as substitutes for male nurses, 278; early training as a medical measure, 278; Rudolf Virchow, 307; report on the condition of Bellevue Hospital, 308; shortening of the college course, 309; hospital needs of New York City, 335; the etiology of summer diarrhea, 336; meeting of the Americal Dermatological Association, 336; the hygiene of occupation, 360; the Strauss milk depots in New York, 362; the hygiene of dust, 389; opening of the medical schools, 390; an investigation of gas poisoning, 390; infant mortality in France, 417; pancreatitis, 418; the study of immunity, 469; the Lorenz treatment of congenital hip disease, 470; antitoxin or better nursing, 471; the alleged increase in cancer, 443; the microorganisms of streets, 443; tuberculosis in Vermont, 444; the influence of soil, fabrics and flies in the dissemination of typhoid fever, 497; the misuse of common terms, 498; human and bovine tuberculosis, 499; notification of other diseases than those which are infectious, 500; radical operations on the fifth nerve, 527; the teaching of common diseases, 528; trachoma in public schools, 528; a new wing for tuberculosis at the Long Island Hospital, 551; annual report of the surgeon-general of the army, 551; progress of plague, 574; foreign medical study, 575; report of the surgeon of the navy, 599; operations for neuralgia of the fifth nerve, 600; foot and mouth disease, 626; new out-patient department for the Carney Hospital, 627; a foreign service medical corps, 627; municipal laboratories as important aids to sanitary work, 651; research professorships, 652; smallpox in Berlin, 652; reciprocity or inter-state licensure of physicians, 682; advantages of medical practice in smaller cities and towns, 682; an old dietetic treatment of acute coryza, 683; measures for the protection of our trees, 683.
Education. Standard of education necessary for a student to begin the study of medicine, Jones, F. A., 22; the teaching of surgery with special reference to the didactic methods, Bryant, J. D., 108; the teaching of surgery, Burrell, H. L., 108; medicine in relation to universities, 163; women as professors in Italy, 167; the lower limit of age for school attendance, 251; shortening of the college course, 309; motives leading to the study of medicine, Keith, A., 365; opening of the medical schools, 390; the teaching of surgery, Burrell, H. L., 477; foreign medical study, 575; millions for medical school, 575.
Edwards, W. A. The coast resorts of Southern California, 247.
Electricity. Its use in gynecology, White, W. H., 148, 159.
Elliot, J. W. Decapitulation of the kidney for nephritis, 457; extirpation of the larynx, 458; ruptured trachea, 458.
Elliott, A. R. Etiology of chronic nephritis, 47.
Elliott, G. M. Syphilis, 440.
Emerson, E. B. Infant feeding, 616.
Empyema in children, Cotton, F. J., 63; a clinical study of one hundred and thirty-five cases of empyema, based upon the bacteriological findings in the exudate, Withington, C. F., 505.
Everett, W. S. The present status of the practice of medicine, and the urgent need of more stringent application of hygienic and sanitary laws, 1.
Exercise. The effects of exercise on the heart and circulation, Larrabee, R. C., 318, 328.
Eye. Contagious eye diseases in school children, 165; Professor Fuch's ophthalmological clinic, Derby, G. S., 392; contagious ophthalmia, Standish, M., 367; the diagnosis of common ocular diseases, Moulton, W. B., 462; recent progress in ophthalmology, Standish, M., and Hall, W. D., 408, 434; trachoma in public schools, 528.
Fauces. The local pathology of acute general infections arising through the lymphoid tissue of the fauces, Goodale, J. L., 349.
Favill, H. B. Venesection, 50.
Fees. Cheever, D. W., 195.
Finlay, C. T. Method of stamping out yellow fever suggested since 1899, 570.
Finney, J. M. T. Pyloroplasty with report of a new method, 109.
Flexner, S. Inspection with the bacillus of dysentery, with especial reference to its rôle in the summer diarrheas of children, 593.
Food. Infant feeding, Emerson, E. B., 616.
Foot-and-mouth Disease, 626.
Foreign medical study, 575.
Foreign service medical corps, 627.
Foster, G. W. The legal vs. the medical test of responsibility, 459.
Fox, G. H. Acne vulgaris, symptoms and treatment, 547.
Fractures. Massage in fracture treatment, Tracy, E. A., 407; a case of ununited fracture of the radius due to osteomyelitis, Painter, C. F., 486.
Fraenkel, J. Osteosarcoma of the spinal cord, treatment with Coley's fluid, 647; report of a case of spinal cord tumor operated on, 648.
Fraenkel, J., and Hunt, J. R. Multiple neurofibromatosis, 388.
Freiberg, A. H. An additional case of true spondyttis following typhoid fever, 306; Wolff's law of transformation, 331; fashioning apparatus for flat feet and deformities of the toes, 333.
Friedman, L. V. Notes on the diagnosis and treatment of early miscarriage, 563, 567.
Fuch. Prof. Fuch's ophthalmological clinic, Derby, G. S., 392.
Fuller, E. M. The anatomy of the parathyroid glands, 438.
Futcher, F. B. The occurence of gout in the United States with an analysis of thirty-six cases, 74.
Gage-Day, M. Treatment in gynecology from a medical standpoint, 619.
Gage, H. Ultimate results of operations for appendicitis, 395.
Galloway, H. P. H. General management and constitutional treatment of tuberculosis of bones and joints, with special reference to the use of tents, 305; operative treatment of claw-hand resulting from fracture of the arm, 333.
Garceau, E. Tuberculosis of the urinary tract, 13, 20.
Gay, G. W. Is pelias berus venomous? 630.
General practitioner. A plea for the general practitioner, Greene, J. S., 254.
Generative System. Tuberculosis of the testicle, Thorndike, P., and Bailey, W. T., 12, 20; tuberculosis of the prostate, Crandon, L. R. G., 17, 20; recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 72; abdominal hysterectomy, Deaver, J. B., 81; myomectomy versus hysterectomy, McCosh, A. J., 82; remarks on cancer of the uterus, Richardson, M. H., 89, 105; the present status of the operative treatment of cancer of the uterus, Burrage, W. L., 91, 105; operation for cancer of the uterus, Reynolds, E., 95, 105; cancer of the uterus, Conant, W. M., 97, 105; the present status of the pessary in the treatment of displacements of the uterus, Davenport, F. H., 145, 157; electricity, its use in gynecology, White, W. H., 148, 159; multiple fibroids of the uterus, Breck, S., 150, 157; cases of prostatectomy with remarks on the operation, Thorndike, P., 233, 245; pelvic cellulitis as a complication of uterine fibroids, Cabot, A. T., 428; the medical side of gynecology, Jenks, E. W., 463; laceration of the cervix uteri and pelvic floor, Burrage, W. L., 464; symposium on retrodisplacements of the uterus, Mann, M. D., 464; non-operative treatment of displacements of the uterus, Davenport, F. H., 464; the Alexander operation, Cleveland, C., 465; suspension of the uterus, Robb, H., 465; intra-abdominal shortening of the round ligaments per vaginam for the cure of retrodisplacements of the uterus, Goffe, J. R., 465; operations on the uterosacral ligaments in the treatment of retroversion of the uterus, Bovee, J. W., 466; the study and practical significance of lactation atrophy of the uterus, Vineberg, H. N., 466; the relation of the gynecologist, obstetrician and general surgeon, Gordon, S. C., 491; the relative advantages of the complete and partial hysterectomy, Montgomery, E. E., 493; a new method of anterior and posterior colporrhaphy, Stone, I. S., 493; a consideration of ovarian fibromata, based on a study of two recent cases and eighty-two collected from the literature, Peterson, R., 494; bacterial flora of the vaginal and cervical canal in health, with remarks concerning infections of the female genital tract, Swan, W. E., 619; treatment in gynecology from a medical standpoint, Gage-Day, M., 619; what advice should be given to a woman suffering from fibroid tumor of the uterus, Goffe, J. R., 619; the principles involved in the repair of lacerations of the pelvic floor, Burtenshaw, J. H., 619; observations on three cases of hydatidiform mole, Higgins, F. A., 675, 679.
Gerrish, F. H. Annual address before the Maine Medical Association, 439.
Getchell, A. C. The climate of Central Massachusetts, 188.
Gibson, C. L. The creation of an artificial valvular fistula: (a) for the treatment of chronic colitis; (b) as an adjuvant to certain operations on the stomach, 341, 355.

Gilman, W. R. Obstetrical antisepsis, 697.
Goelet, A. H. A study of the indications of nephropexy, 620.
Goffe, J. R. Intra-abdominal shortening of the round ligaments per vaginam for the cure of retrodisplacements of the uterus, 465; what advice should be given to a woman suffering from fibroid tumor of the uterus, 619.
Goitre. Two cases of exophthalmic goitre treated by operation, Rixford, E., 137; exophthalmic goitre after thyroidectomy, Booth, J. A., 386.
Goldthwait, J. E., and Painter, C. F. The malignancy of bone tuberculosis, 305.
Goodale, J. L. The local pathology of acute general infections arising through the lymphoid tissue of the fauces, 349.
Gordon, S. C. The relation of the gynecologist, obstetrician and general surgeon, 491.
Gout. The occurrence of gout in the United States with an analysis of thirty-six cases, 74.
Gratitude. An unusual exhibition of gratitude, 503.
Graves's Disease. On the association of Graves's disease and glycosuria, Stern, H., 24; with pigmentation, Cutler, E. G., 455.
Greene, E. M. On giving certificates of vaccination, 687.
Greene, J. S. A plea for the general practitioner, 254.
Gunshot Wounds. Report of a successful case of gunshot wound of the stomach and liver with porterior thorough drainage and recovery, Park, R., 78; the great importance of drainage in bullet wounds of intraperitoneal viscera, Tiffany, L. M., 78; results of wounds of the large joints by modern military projectiles, Nancrede, C. B., 78; of the head and cranium, La Garde, L. A., 126.
Gynecology. The medical side of gynecology, Jenks, E. W., 463; the relation of the gynecologist, obstetrician and general surgeon, Gordon, S. C., 491.
Hallucination. Sensory hallucination and its analogues, MacDougall, R., 377, 402.
Hammond, G. M. Pseudo muscular atrophy, 388.
Hammond, F. P. The pathogenesis of eclampsia, 618.
Hand. Congenital anomalies of the phalanges, with report of cases studied by skiagraphy, Lund, F. B., 670.
Hare, H. A. The employment of digitalis and aconite in the treatment of cardiac diseases, 50.
Harrington, F. B. Segmented ring for intestinal anastomosis, 521.
Harris, F. A. A case of possible fatal morphine poisoning, a difficult diagnosis, 184.
Harris, M. L. Removal of the bladder and prostate for carcinona, through a suprapubic opening, 80.
Harris, P. A. Closure of suppurating abdominal wounds following laparotomies, 495.
Harte, R. H. A care of severed spine in which myelorrhaphy was followed by partial return of function, 79.
Harte, R. H., and Willson, R. N. Carcinoma limited to the appendix vermiformis: discussion of its origin and its relation to appendicitis, 134.
Hay Fever. The so-called immunizing treatment of hay fever. Ingals, E. F., 134.
Head. Non-operative head injuries, diagnosis and treatment, Robinson, T. J., 117; indications for operation in head injuries, Dwight, E. W., 119; indications for operation in head injuries, Bullard, W. N., 122; gunshot wounds of the head and cranium, La Garde, L. A., 126; technique and after-care of operations upon the cranium, Scudder, C. L., and Hartwell, H. H., 127.
Hemorrhage. Points in the control of emergency hemorrhage, both medical and surgical, Dawbarn, H. M., 623.
Hernia. Implantation of silver filigree for the closure of large hernial apertures, Meyer, W., 137; the modern operation for radical cure of umbilical hernia, Conant, W. H., 400, 411; local anesthesia in radical cure for inguinal hernia, Bodine, J. A., 621.
Herrick, J. B. Classification of chronic nephritis, 48.
Higgins, F. A. Report on progress in obstetrics, 326, 352; observations on three cases of hydatidiform mole, 675, 679.
Hinkel, F. W. Treatment of empyema of the sphenoidal sinus, 162.
Hinsdale, G. Canadian climates and health resorts, 217.
Hip. The diagnosis of hip disease, an analysis of ninety-five cases, Lovett, R. W., 169.
Hirsch, W. Arteriosclerosis of the spinal cord, 414.
Hoffmann, P. The passive carrying function of the arm, its importance, its destruction and an operation for its restoration, 333.
Hoover, C. F. The origin of the vesicular respiratory sound, 23.
Hope, G. B. Some clinical features regarding hay fever and its rational treatment, 160.
Hopkins, F. E. A case of incised wound of the larynx, 161; a case of foreign body in the bronchus, 161.
Hoppe, H. H. Acute hemorrhagic cortical encephalitis, 415.
Hospitals. The essentials of modern hospital construction, Vander Veer, A., 109; some hospital problems in Philadelphia, 531.
Howe, J. S. Ten cases of bullous dermatitis following vaccination, 524.
Hubbard, J. C. Deciduoma malignum; report of a case, 453.
Hunter, J. D. The treatment of acute dysentery, 578.
Infection. The influence of alcohol upon infection and its use in the treatment of acute infectious diseases, Meltzer, S. J., 39, 66; old clothing and bedding as a source of infection, 143.
Infectious Diseases. The management of infectious diseases, Young, A. G., 461; notification of other diseases than those which are infectious, 500; rules for burial following death from infectious disease, 502; infectious diseases, 569.
Influenza. Eleven acute and eighteen chronic cases of influenza, Lord, F. T., 662.
Ingals, E. F. The treatment of croupous pneumonia, 74; the so-called immunizing treatment of hay fever, 134.
Instruments and Apparatus. A self-retaining tongue depressor, Mosher, H. P., 151; an apparatus for paralysis of the extensors of the hands and fingers, Davis, G. G., 306; segmented ring for intestinal anastomosis, Harrington, F. B., 521.
Insurance. Child insurance, 164.
Jenks, E. W. The medical side of gynecology, 463.
Joints. Results of wounds of the large joints by modern military projectiles, Nancrede, C. B., 78.
Jones, D. F. Recurrent parotitis following recurrent attacks of appendicitis, 565.
Jones, F. A. Standard of education necessary for a student to begin the study of medicine, 22.
Joslin, E. P. Progress in therapeutics, 543, 566; errors in the estimation of urea by the hypobromite method, 700.
Keen, W. W. Midshipman Aiken and vivisection, 656.
Keith, A. Motives leading to the study of medicine, 365.
Kelly, A. O. J. The diagnosis of chronic nephritis, 49.
Kelly, M. Smallpox, its medical treatment, 236.
King Edward. The illness of King Edward, 25.
Kinnicutt, F. P. The Finsen light treatment of smallpox, also the Finsen light treatment of various dermatoses by concentrated chemical rays, with exhibition of the lamp, 623.
Klotz, H. G. A critical review of L. Philippson's proposed reform of dermatology, 526.
Knapp, P. C. The mechanism of the plantar reflex, 413; division of the posterior spinal roots for amputation neuralgia, 415.
Kyle, D. B. The chemical pathology of the saliva and pharyngeal secretions (sialo-semeiology) as a means of diagnosis, 161.
Laboratories. Municipal laboratories as important aid to sanitary work, 651.
LaGarde, L. A. Gunshot wounds of the head and cranium, 126.
Langdon, F. W. Paramyoclonus multiplex, 357.
Langmaid, S. W. An epidemic of non-suppurative cervical adenitis, 160.
Language. The need of a wider knowledge of language, 112.
Larnyx. Extirpation of the larnyx, Elliot, J. W., 458.
Larrabee, R. C. The effects of exercise on the heart and circulation, 318, 328.
Legal Medicine. A case of possible morphine poisoning, a difficult diagnosis, Harris, F. A., 184; the legal vs. the medical test of responsibility, Foster, G. W., 459; legal tests of responsibility, Webb, R., 460; gunshot fatality, source of shooting proved by an examination of ammunition, Brown, O. J., 542.
Leland, G. A. Syphilitic contraction of the pharynx, 161.
Leszynsky, W. M. Cerebral abscess, 413; asthenic bulbar paralysis, 387.
Leukoplakia, Cobb, F. C., 643.
Leviseur, F. J. The clinical aspect and treatment of some affections of the finger nails, 546.
Lindly, W. The climatology of the mountains of Southern California, 218.
Liver. Syphilis of the liver, Stockton, C. G., 74; the symptoms and treatment of hepatic cirrhosis in the light of seventy-eight autopsies, Sears, G. G., and Lord, F. T., 285; cirrhosis of the liver in childhood, Morse, J. L., 299.
Locke, E. A. The clinical value of the iodine reaction in the leucocytes of the blood, 289; a report of the blood examination in ten cases of severe burns of the skin, 480.
Long Island Hospital. A new wing for tuberculosis at the Long Island hospital, 551; tuberculosis at the Long Island hospital, Wilkins, G. C., 579.
Loomis Laboratory. The controversy regarding Loomis laboratory, 575.
Lord, F. T. Eleven acute and eighteen chronic cases of influenza, 662.
Lorenz Treatment of congenital hip dislocation, 470.
Lovett, R.W. The diagnosis of hip disease; an analysis of ninety-five cases, 169; the diagnosis of hip disease, 330; faulty attitude and round shoulders, with description of an apparatus for measuring it, 332; demonstration of the connection of rotation and lateral deviation in scoliosis on a model, 333; round shoulders and faulty attitude; a method of observation and record with conclusions as to treatment, 510.
Lund, F. B. The iliopsoas bursa: its surgical importance and the treatment of its inflammatory conditions, with report of three cases, 345, 355; congenital anomalies of the phalanges, with report of cases studied by skiagraphy, 638, 670.
Lund, F. B., Nichols, E. H., and Bottomley, J. T. Six cases of rupture of the intestine with four recoveries, 584.
Lusk, G. The common use of alcohol as a beverage, 43.
Macdonald, W. G. Glycerinized vaccine lymph, 631.
MacDougall, R. Sensory hallucination and its analogues, 377.
McAdie, A. G. The climatology of California, 218.
McCollom, J. H. Vaccinations, accidents and untoward effects, 203.
McCosh, A. J. Myomectomy versus hysterectomy, 82.
McCrae, T. Review of the cases of acute articular rheumatism in the medical clinic of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, 76.
McGraw, T. A. A case of splenectomy for leukemic enlargement, 134.
Makuen, G. H. Report of a case of stammering, 160.
Malay Peninsula. A medical research institute in the far East, 115.
Manley, T. H. Severe extrinsic traumatisms of the spine, 485.
Mann, M. D. Symposium on retrodisplacements of the uterus, 464.
Marine Biological Laboratory at Wood's Hole, 219.
Massachusetts General Hospital. Clinical meeting of the staff, 455.
Matas, R. A modified radical operation for the cure of peripheral aneurisms, with reports of cures, 135.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. The nutritive value of alcohol, Benedict, F. G., 31; the basis for the use of alcohol in therapeutics, Cushing, A. B., 34; the common use of alcohol as a beverage, 43; the influence of alcohol upon infection, and its use in the treatment of acute infectious diseases, Meltzer, S. J., 39, 66; the employment of digitalis and aconite in the treatment of cardiac diseases, Hare, H. A., 50; the salicylates in acute rheumatism, Walsh, J. J., 77; the influence of ozonation upon the blood, Curtis, G. L., 77.
Matrimony. Medicine and matrimony, 142.
Mayer, E. Adenoma of the nose, 162.
Mayo, W. J. Complications following gastro-enterostomy, 109; radical operations for the cure of cancer of the stomach, 621.
Mediastinal lymphosarcoma with x-ray dermatitis, Cutler, E. G., 455.
Medicine and Matrimony, 142.
Meek, E. R. A variety of skin lesions treated by x-ray, 152.
Meltzer, S. J. The influence of alcohol upon infection and its use in the treatment of acute infectious diseases, 39, 66.
Meyer, A. Transverse lesion of the midthoracic segments of the spinal cord, 387; acromegaly with diabetes, 414.
Meyer, W. Implantation of silver filigree for the closure of large hernial apertures, 137.
Micro-organisms of streets, 443.
Milk. The importance of milk analysis in infant feeding, Wentworth, A. H., 5; the Strauss milk depots in New York, 362.
Mind. Is Jane Toppan insane, 27.
Minot, J. J. Fibrinous bronchitis, 430.
Misuse of common terms, 498.
Monks, G. H., and Blake, J. B. The normal appendix, its length, its mesentery and its position or direction as observed in six hundred and fifty-six autopsies, 581.

Montgomery, E. E. The relative advantages of the complete and partial hysterectomy, 492.
Montgomery, F. H. A case of cutaneous blastomycosis followed by laryngeal and systemic tuberculosis, 548.
Moorehouse, G. W. A report of two cases of "typhoid spine," 59.
Moore, J. E. Anatomical and technical reasons why the perineal is preferable to the suprapubic route in prostatic surgery, 80.
Morse, J. C. Some cases which were not pernicious anemia, 587.
Morse, J. L. Cirrhosis of the liver in childhood, 299.
Mortality. Infant mortality in France, 417; French and English mortality, 338; progress of the movement for uniform statistics of causes of death, Wilbur, C. L., 571.
Mosher, H. P. A self-retaining tongue depressor, 151.
Moulton, W. B. The diagnosis of common ocular diseases, 462.
Murray, R. A. Treatment of placenta previa, Cæsarean section not justifiable, 492.
Myositis. Notes on a case of acute hæmorrhagic polymyositis, Thayer, W. H., 313.
Nancrede, C. B. Results of wounds of the large joints by modern military projectiles, 78.
Navy. Report of the surgeon-general of the navy, 599.
Nervous System. Uremic aphagia, Riesman, D., 50; the repair of nerves, 53; a report of two cases of "typhoid spine," Moorehouse, G. W., 59; a case of severed spinal column in which myelorrhaphy was followed by partial return of function, Harte, R. H., 79; non-operative head injuries, diagnosis and treatment, Robinson, T. J., 117; indications for operation in head injuries, Dwight, E. W., 119; indications for operation in head injuries, Bullard, W. N., 122; gunshot wounds of the head and cranium, La Garde, L. A., 126; technique and after-care of operations upon the cranium, Scudder, C. L., and Hartwell, H. H., 127; unusual complications of tabes, Taylor, E. W., 129; successful brain tumor operations, 111; treatment of empyema of the sphenoidal sinus, Hinkel, F. W., 162; the changes in the spinal cord and medulla in pernicious anemia, Billings, F., 225, 257; remarks on arthrodesis of the ankle for infantile paralysis, Dane, J., 306; lumbar puncture in severe nervous diseases, 311; a case of neuritis in the course of diabetes, Packard, F. H., 324; study of the myospasms, myokymia, myoclonus multiplex, myotonia acquisita, intention spasm, Walton, G. L., 356; paramyoclonus multiplex, Langdon, F. W., 357; paramyoclonus multiplex, Brill, N. E., 357; disseminated sclerosis causing ocular palsies and spasticity with loss of knee jerks, Spiller, W. G., 358; traumatic myelitis causing symptoms of central hematomyelia, Spiller, W. G., 359; combined tabes and multiple sclerosis, Sinkler, W., 359; course of the sensory fibers in the cord, and some points in spinal localization, Prince, M., 385; asthenic bulbar paralysis, Leszynsky, W. M., 387; transverse lesion of the midthoracic segments of the spinal cord, Meyer, A., 387; pseudo-muscular atrophy, Hammond, G. M., 388; multiple neurofibromatosis, Fraenkel, J., and Hunt, J. R., 388; cerebral abscess, Leszynsky, W. M., 413; partial internal hydrocephalus, Spiller, W. G., 414; acromegaly with diabetes, Meyer, A., 414; arteriosclerosis of the spinal cord, Hirsch, A., 414; acute hemorrhagic cortical encephalitis, Hoppe, H. H., 415; sarcoma of the third cervical segment of the spinal cord, operation, recovery, Putnam, J. W., and Krauss, W. C., 412; hysteria major and its differentiation from organic disease, Dana, C. L., 413; the mechanism of the plantar reflex Knapp, P. C., 413; division of the posterior spinal roots for amputation neuralgia, Knapp, P. C., 415; pseudo-epilepsies and the relief of some forms by thyroid, Browning, W., 415; psychomotor epilepsy, Van Giesen I., 416; insanity with peculiar motor manifestations, Tomlinson, H. A., 416; intention spasm, Walton, G. L., 430; tumor in the region of the hypophysis, Taylor, E. W., and Waterman, G. A., 522; radical operations on the fifth nerve, 527; tetany in gastric disorders, Strong, L. W., 561, 591; operation for neuralgia of the fifth nerve, 600; operation for neuralgia of the fifth nerve, Spear, E. D., 605; the pathogenesis of eclampsia, Hammond, F. P., 618; infantile paralysis and epidemic of thirty-eight cases, Painter, C. F., 633; a specimen of meningocele, Schlapp, M. G., 648; discussion of spinal cord tumors, Collins, J., 648; report of a case of spinal cord tumor operated upon, Fraenkel, J., 648; report of a case of spinal cord tumor operated upon, Abrahamson, I., 648; successful laminectomy for spinal cord tumor, Bailey, P., 647; osteosarcoma of the spinal cord, treatment with Coley's fluid, Fraenkel, J. 647; a cure for diagnosis, Noyes, W. B., 647; subcortical tumor, operation, Schlapp, M. G., 647; a tumor formation in the region of the coccyx, Abrahamson, I., 647; two cases of so-called Landry's paralysis, Taylor, E. W., and Waterman, G. A., 694.
New Jersey state medical examinations, 421.
New York. Summer work of the New York Health Department, 54; hospital needs of New York City, 335; requirements of New York Department of Public Charities, 364.
Noise an element of damage, 252.
Nose. Adenoma of the nose, Mayer, E., 162; the use of rubber splints in the treatment of curvature of the triangular cartilage, Brown, P., 162; a new operation for the restoration of the nasal septum, Roe, J. O., 163; a probable myxofibroma of the nose, Allen, S. W., 542.
Notification of other diseases than those which are infectious, 500.
Noyes, W. B. A case for diagnosis, 647.
Nurses. Female as substitutes for male nurses, 278.
Obstetrics. Report on progress in obstetrics, Higgins, F. A., 326.
Ochsner, A. J. Surgery of the stomach for the relief of non-malignant pathological conditions, 622.
Occupation. The hygiene of occupation, 360.
Oliver, J. C. Cysts in connection with the teeth, 137.
Operations. The time factor in operations, 502.
Orthopraxy. The diagnosis of hip disease, an analysis of ninety-five cases, Lovett, R. W., 169; obscure double psoas abscess operation, supposed retroperitoneal tumor, operation, drainage of right abscess, infection, operation, drainage of left abscess, Burrell, H. L., 45; Pott's disease and psoas abscess, operation on abscess, acute nephritis, apparently due to pressure of drainage tube, recovery from nephritis, Lovett, R. W., 46; a case of marked separation of the pubic bones, Goldthwaite, J. E., 47; some of the orthopedic conditions of the newborn demanding early surgical treatment, Painter, C. F., 296, 304; an apparatus for paralysis of the extensors of the hands and fingers, Davis, G. G., 306; remarks on arthrodesis of the ankle for infantile paralysis, Dane, J., 306; an additional case of true spondylitis following typhoid fever, Freiberg, A. H., 306; final results after the mechanical treatment of Pott's disease, Taylor, H. L., 306; the diagnosis of hip disease, Lovett, R. W., 330; the rational or combined treatment of coxalgia, Taylor, R. T., 330; the remittent limp of the first apparent stage of hip-joint disease, Shaffer, N. M., 330; the operative treatment of hip-joint disease, Young, J. K., 331; Wolff's law of transformation, Freiberg, A. H., 331; the treatment of congenital dislocation of the hip, Whitman, R., 332; causes of relapse after reduction of congenital dislocation of the hip, Bradford, E. H., 332; simplification of the treatment of lateral curvature, Bradford, E. H., 332; faulty attitude and round shoulders with description of an apparatus for measuring it, Lovett, R. W., 332; demonstration of the connection of rotation and lateral deviation in scoliosis on a model, Lovett, R. W., 333; the anatomical changes in severe cases of scoliosis as demonstrated in the living subject, Weigel, L. A., 333; operative treatment of claw-hand, resulting from fracture of the arm, Galloway, H. P. H., 333; fashioning apparatus for flat feet and deformities of the toes, Freiberg, A. H., 333; the simplification of the treatment of lateral curvature, Bradford, E. H., 375.
Osgood, R. B. Lesions of the tibial tubercle occurring in adolescence, 705.
Osler, W. The acquisition of human wisdom, 364.
Packard, F. H. A case of neuritis in the course of diabetes, 324.
Painter, C. F. Some of the orthopedic conditions of the newborn demanding early surgical treatment, 296, 304. A case of transplantation of the biceps femoris tendon, 381; a case of reunited fracture of the radius due to osteomyelitis, 486; infantile paralysis, an epidemic of thirty-eight cases, 633.
Palmer, H. B. Do we send too many of our patients to the hospitals, 440.
Pancreas. The newer relation of the pancreas to general medicine, Stengel, A., 620.
Pancreatitis, 418.
Park, R. Report of a successful case of gunshot wound of the stomach and liver, with posterior thorough drainage and recovery, 78.
Parotitis. Recurrent parotitis following recurrent attacks of appendicitis, Jones, D. F., 565.
Pathological departments in England and the United States, Robson, A. W. M., 446.
Pathologist. A concession to the pathologist, 254.
Patton, J. M. Etiology and prophylaxis of cardiac manifestations of articular rheumatism, 75.
Pearce, F. S. The nervous cardiac symptoms of high altitudes, 249.
Pearce, R. M. A concession to the pathologist, 254.
Pediatrics. Report on pediatrics, Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L., 677.
Pelias. Is pelias berus venomous? Gay, G. W., 630.
Pessary. The present status of the pessary in the treatment of displacements of the uterus, Davenport, F. H., 145, 157.
Peterson, R. A consideration of ovarian fibromata based on a study of two recent cases and eighty-two collected from the literature, 494.
Pharmacology. Recent progress in pharmacology and physiological chemistry, Vejux-Tyrode, M., 488.
Philadelphia. Some hospital problems in Philadelphia, 531.
Philippines. The work of the Board of Health for the Philippine Islands, 84.
Physician of to-day, 55; the rôle of the physician, Young, C. D., 607.
Plague. Progress of plague, 574.
Plympton, H. Septicemia and the curette, 484.
Poison. A fatal case of mandrake poisoning, Buck, A. W., 543; a case of poisoning by thallium, Bullard, W. N., 589.
Pollitzer, S. Note on the histology of herpes zoster, 546.
Powers, C. A. Permanent suprapubic drainage in advanced tuberculosis of the bladder, 80.
Practice of Medicine. The present status of the practice of medicine and the urgent need of more stringent application of hygienic and sanitary laws, Everett, W. S., 1.
Practice. Reciprocity or inter-state licensure of physicians, 682; advantages of medical practice in smaller cities and towns, 682.
Pratt, J. H., on the classification of the benign thyroid tumors, 10, 19.
Pregnancy, Affections connected with. Polyhydramnios: its differential diagnosis and treatment, with report of cases, Davis, E. P., 211; appendicitis complicating pregnancy, with report of care, removal of gangrenous appendix at three and one-half months' delivery at term, Donoghue, F. D., 272, 276; report on progress in obstetrics, Higgins, F. A , 326, 352; deciduoma malignum, report of a case, Hubbard, J. C., 453; septicemia and the curette, Plympton, H., 484; the relation of the gynecologist, obstetrician and general surgeon, Gordon, S. C., 491; treatment of placenta previa, cæsarean section not justifiable, Murray, R. A., 492; two conditions simulating ectopic gestation, Davis, E. P., 492; notes on the diagnosis and treatment of early miscarriage, Friedman, L. V., 563; cases of typhoid fever simulating puerperal sepsis, Swain, H. T., 676, 679; a case of typhoid fever complicating convalescence from childbirth, Stickney, E. P., 677, 679; obstetrical antisepsis, Gilman, W. R., 697.
Prince, M. Course of the sensory fibers in the cord, and some points in spinal localization, 385.
Prostate Gland. Cases of prostatectomy, with remarks on the operation, Thorndike, P., 233, 245.
Psychology. Sensory hallucination and its analogues, MacDougall, R., 377, 402.
Putnam, J. W., and Krauss, W. C. Sarcoma of the third cervical segment of the spinal cord, operation, recovery, 412.
Rain. Some advantages of a rainy season, 281.
Ransohoff, J. Curvilinear prerectal operation for abscess of the prostate gland, 81.
Recent Progress. Genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 72; diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L., 153; surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 212, 241, 274, 302; obstetrics, Higgins, F. A., 326, 352; ophthalmology, Standish, M., and Hall, W. D., 408, 434; pharmacology and physiological chemistry, Vejux-Tyrode, M., 488; therapeutics, Joslin, E. P., 543, 566; pediatrics, 677; report on pediatrics, Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L., 702.
Registration. Progress of the movement for uniform statistics of causes of death, Wilbur, C. L., 571; birth registration, Wilbur, C. L., 571; reciprocity or inter-state licensure of physicians, 682.
Research professorships, 652.
Respiratory System. Endocarditis or a complication of pneumonia, Wells, E. F., 50; empyema in children, Cotton, F. J., 63; the treatment of croupous pneumonia, Ingals, E. F., 74; the origin of the vesicular respiratory sound, Hoover, C. F., 23; some clinical features regarding hay fever and its rational treatment, Hope, G. B., 160; report of a case of stammering, Makuen, G. H., 160. Changes in the form of the arytenoid cartilage occasionally seen in singers and actors, Rice, C. C., 160; syphilitic contraction of the pharynx, Leland, G. A., 161; a case of incised wound of the larynx, Hopkins, F. E., 161; a case of foreign body in the bronchus, Hopkins, F. E., 161; the climate of Central Massachusetts, Getchell, A. C., 188; some comparative studies of the tubercle bacilli and their importance in relation to tuberculosis in man, Schweinitz, E. A., de, 189; remarks on intra-thoracic pressure, with illustration of the author's method of lung immobilization, Denison, C., 190; point of election in pulmonary tuberculosis, Cobb, J. O., 216; report of progress in thoracic disease, Bartol, J. W., 382; chronic laryngeal obstruction due to enlargement of the false cords, tracheotomy, later partial excision of false cords, Crandon, L. R. G., 398; fibrinous bronchitis, Minot, J. J., 430; a clinical study of one hundred and thirty-five cases of empyema based upon the bacteriological findings in the exudate, Withington, C. F., 505; a note on pleurisy in typhoid fever, Sears, G. G., 614; eleven acute and eighteen chronic cases of influenza, Lord, F. T., 662.

Reynolds, E. Operation for cancer of the uterus, 95, 105.

Rheumatism. The etiology of acute articular rheumatism, Webster, G. W., 75; etiology and prophylaxis of cardiac manifestations of articular rheumatism, Patton, J. M., 75; review of the cases of acute articular rheumatism in the medical clinic of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, McCrae, 7, 76; the salicylates in acute rheumatism, Walsh, J. J., 77.

Rice, C. C. Changes in the form of the arytenoid cartilage occasionally seen in singers and actors, 160.

Richardson, M. H. Remarks on cancer of the uterus, 89, 105; the choice between the suprapubic and the infrapubic methods of reaching tumors and other surgical lesions of the pelvic organs, 107.

Riesman, D. Uremic aphasia, 50.

Rixford, E. Two cases of exophthalmic goitre treated by operation, 137.

Robb, H. Suspension of the uterus, 465.

Robey, W. H., Jr. A consideration of uremia, 174, 188.

Robinson, B. The family adviser versus the specialist, 223.

Robinson, T. J. Non-operative head injuries, diagnosis and treatment, 117.

Robson, A. W. M. Pathological departments in England and the United States, 446.

Roe, J. O. A new operation for the restoration of the nasal septum, 163.

Roentgen. The influence of the Roentgen rays on the different varieties of sarcoma, Coley, W. B., 136; a variety of skin lesions treated by x-ray, Meek, E. R., 152; good effects of the x-rays in Hodgkin's disease not permanent, Williams, F. H., 365; x-ray treatment of malignant disease, Allen, S., 431; the value of radiotherapy in cutaneous and other cancers, Allen, C. W., 548; radiotherapeutic operations, Zeisler, J., 549; symposium on the roentgen ray, 624; results in fifty cases of cancer treated with the aid of the roentgen rays, Allen, C. W., 624; report of epithelioma of face cured by x-ray, Trowbridge, E. H., 701.

Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L. Report on the diseases of children, 153; report on pediatrics, 677, 702.

St. Andrew. Seventeenth annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, 392.

Saliva. The chemical pathology of the saliva and pharyngeal secretions (sialo-semeilogy) as a means of diagnosis, Kyle, D. B., 161.

Sanborn, C. A. The climate of the eastern foothills of Southern California, 218, 247.

Scapula. Two cases of elevated scapulæ, Steele, A. J., 305.

Schlapp, M. G. Subcortical tumor, operation, 647; a specimen of meningocele, 648.

Schools. Contagious eye diseases in school children, 165; the lower limit of age for school attendance, 251; medical inspection of school children, 555.

Schweinitz, E. A., de. Some comparative studies of the tubercle bacilli and their importance in relation to tuberculosis in man, 189.

Scudder, C. L., and Hartwell, H. H. Technique and after-care of operations upon the cranium, 127.

Scurvy. A case of scurvy with unusual poverty of the blood, Talley, J. E., 52.

Sears, G. G. A note on pleurisy in typhoid fever, 614.

Sears, G. G., and Lord, F. T. The symptoms and treatment of hepatic cirrhosis in the light of seventy-eight autopsies, 285.

Sewall, H. Altitude in fact and fancy, 248.

Shaffer, N. M. The remittent limp of the first apparent stage of hip-joint disease, 330.

Sherman, H. M. Report of a case of congenital deficiency of the clavicles with photogram and radiogram, 305.

Sherwell, S. A case of pellagra, 526.

Shoulders. Round shoulders and faulty attitude, a method of observation and record, with conclusions as to treatment, Lovett, R. W., 510.

Sinkler, W. Combined tabes and multiple sclerosis, 359.

Small, R. D. Leucocytosis as an indication for operation in appendicitis, 438.

Small, W. B. Tuberculosis from the standpoint of its modern treatment, 439.

Smallpox. Its diagnosis, Bullard, J. T., 207; the aerial conveyance of smallpox, 139; its medical treatment, Kelly, M., 236; legislation with reference to smallpox and vaccination, Abbott, S. W., 263; the Finsen light treatment of smallpox, also the Finsen light treatment of various dermatoses by concentrated chemical rays with exhibition of the lamp, Kinnicutt, F. P., 623; in Berlin, 652.

Smith, A. A. The treatment of colds, 619.

Smith, T. The preparation of animal vaccine, 197.

Smith, W. H. A method of staining sputum for bacteriological examination, 659.

Societies. American Clinatological Association, 188, 216, 247; American Dermatological Association, 336, 524, 546; American Gynecological Society, 462, 491; American Laryngological Association, 131, 160; American Medical Association 22, 47, 74; American Neurological Association, 358, 385, 412; American Orthopedic Association, 305, 330; American Surgical Association, 78, 107, 134; Association of Military Surgeons, 21; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 19, 20; Franklin District Medical Society, 86; International Medical Congress, 57; Maine Medical Association, 423, 438, 459; Massachusetts Medical Society, 29; Massachusetts Society for Promoting Agriculture, 686; New York State Medical Association, 618; New York, Medical Association of the Greater City of, 593; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 105, 276, 567; state and provincial boards of health, 569; Suffolk District Medical Society, 104, 157, 188, 245, 304, 328, 355, 411, 703; New York Neurological Society, 647; American Association for the Study of Electricity, 655; American Medical Association, 655.

Solly. Sanatorium treatment in Colorado, 248.

Spear, E. D. Operation for neuralgia of the fifth nerve, 605.

Specialism. The young physician, 191; the situation regarding specialism, 219; the family adviser versus the specialist, Robinson, B., 223.

Spiller, W. G. Disseminated sclerosis causing ocular palsies and spasticity with loss of knee jerks, 358; traumatic myelitis causing symptoms of central hematomyelia, 359; partial internal hydrocephalus, 414.

Spine. A report of two cases of "typhoid spine," Moorehouse, G. W., 59; a case of severed spinal cord, in which myelorrhaphy was followed by partial return of function, Harte, R. H., 79; severe extrinsic traumatisms of the spine, Manley, T. H., 485.

Spleen. A case of splenectomy for leukemic enlargement, McGraw, T. A., 134; a case of wandering spleen packed in the pelvis complicated by typhoid fever, splenectomy with recovery, Ashby, T. A., 462.

Stammering. Report of a case of stammering, Makuen, G. H., 160.

Standish, M. Contagious ophthalmia, 367.

Standish, M., and Hall, W. D. Recent progress in ophthalmology, 408, 434.

Steele, A. J. Two cases of elevated scapulæ, 305.

Steele, J. D., and Francine, A. P. An analysis of sixty-five cases of gastro-ptosis, 75.

Stengel, A. The nerve relation of the pancreas to general medicine, 620.

Stern, H. On the association of Graves's disease and glycosuria, 24.

Stickney, E. P. A case of typhoid fever complicating convalescence from childbirth, 676, 679.

Stockton, C. G. Syphilis of the liver, 74.

Stone, J. S. A new method of anterior and posterior colporrhaphy, 493.

Strauss. Milk depots in New York, 362.

Streets. The micro-organisms of streets, 443.

Strong, L. W. Tetany in gastric disorders, 561, 591.

Surgery. The teaching of surgery with special reference to the didactic method, Bryant, J. D., 108; the teaching of surgery, Burrell, H. L., 108, 449, 477; report on the progress of surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 212, 241, 274, 302.

Swain, H. T. Cases of typhoid fever simulating puerperal sepsis, 676, 679.

Swan, W. E. Bacterial flora of the vaginal and cervical canal in health with remarks concerning infections of the female genital tract, 619.

Swan, W. H. Impressions of differences in practice at low and high altitudes, 249.

Syphilis. Of the liver, Stockton, C. G., 74; syphilis, Elliott, G. M., 440.

Tabes. Unusual complications of tabes, Taylor, E. W., 129.

Talley, J. E. A case of scurvy with unusual poverty of the blood, 52.

Taylor, E. W. Unusual complications of tabes, 129.

Taylor, E. W., and Waterman, G. A. Tumor in the region of the hypophysis, 522; two cases of so-called Landry's paralysis, 694.

Taylor, F. W. Barber surgeons, 533, 557.

Taylor, H. L. Final results after the mechanical treatment of Pott's disease, 306.

Taylor, R. T. The rational or combined treatment of coxalgia, 330.

Teeth. Cysts connected with the teeth, Oliver, J. C., 137.

Tendon. A case of transplantation of the biceps femoris tendon, Painter, C. F., 381.

Teratoma. Ependymal epithelium as a constituent of a teratoma, Christian, H. A., 673.

Thallium. A case of poisoning by thallium, Bullard, W. N., 589.

Thayer, W. H. Notes on a case of acute hemorrhagic polymyositis, 313.

Thayer, W. S. On the teaching of physical diagnosis, 689, 703.

Thompson, W. G. The modern treatment of typhoid fever, 622.

Thorndike, P. Cases of prostatectomy with remarks on the operation, 233, 245.

Thorndike, P., and Bailey, W. T. Tuberculosis of the testicle, 12, 20.

Thyroid. The anatomy of the parathyroid glands, Fuller, E. M., 438.

Thyroid tumors. On the classification of the benign thyroid tumors, Pratt, J. H., 19.

Tiffany, L. M. The great importance of drainage in bullet wounds of intraperitoneal viscera, 78.

Tomlinson, H. A. Insanity with peculiar motor manifestations, 416.

Toppan. Is Jane Toppan insane, 27.

Towle, H. P. Vaccination eruptions, 269.

Trachea. Ruptured trachea, Elliot, J. W., 458.

Tracy, E. A. Massage in fracture treatment, 407; the actinic rays, 520.

Trees. Measures for the protection of our trees, 683; Massachusetts Society for promoting agriculture, 686.

Trichimasis. Cutler, E. G., 456.

Trowbridge, E. H. Report of epithelioma of face cured by x-ray, 701.

Tuberculosis of the testicle, Thorndike, P., and Bailey, W. T., 12, 20; tuberculosis of the urinary tract, Garceau, E., 13, 20; tuberculosis of the prostate, Crandon, L. R. G., 17, 20; tuberculous myocarditis, Anders, J. M., 51; of the intestine, Kocher, 142; some comparative studies of the tubercle bacilli and their importance in relation to tuberculosis in man, Schweinitz, E. A., de, 189; point of election in pulmonary tuberculosis, Cobb, J. O., 216; proposed new provisions for consumptives in Massachusetts, 220; resolve to provide for an investigation and a report by the State Board of Charity as to a new sanatorium for consumptives, 223; general management and constitutional treatment of tuberculosis of bones and joints, with special reference to the use of tents, Galloway, H. P. H., 305; the malignancy of bone tuberculosis, Goldthwait, J. E., and Painter, C. F., 305; a fund for the study and prevention of tuberculosis, 420; from the standpoint of its modern treatment, Small, W. B., 439; tuberculosis in Vermont, 443; human and bovine tuberculosis, 499; a new wing for tuberculosis at the Long Island Hospital, 551; the state in relation to the tuberculous, 571; tuberculosis at the Long Island Hospital, Wilkins G. C., 579.

Typhoid Fever. A report of two cures of "typhoid spine," Moorehouse, G. W., 59; in Chicago, 446; the influence of soil, fabrics and flies in the dissemination of typhoid fever, 497; the modern treatment of typhoid fever, Thompson, W. G., 622; a note on pleurisy in typhoid fever, Sears, G. G., 614; cases of typhoid fever simulating puerperal sepsis, Swain, H. T., 676, 679; a case of typhoid fever complicating convalescence from childbirth, Stickney, E. P., 676, 679.

Tyson, J. Appendicitis from a physician's standpoint, 51.

Uremia. A consideration of uremia. Robey, W. H., 174, 188.

Urinary System. Tuberculosis of the urinary tract, Garceau, E., 13, 20; tuberculosis of the prostate, Crandon, L. R. G., 17, 20; on the association of Graves's disease and glycosuria, Stern, H., 24; etiology of chronic nephritis, Elliott, A. R., 47; malarial nephritis with report of a case, Burns, W. B., 48; classification of chronic nephritis, Herrick, J. B., 48; the early circulatory indications of chronic Bright's Disease, Bishop, L. F., 49; uremic aphasia, Riesman, D., 50; recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P., 72; removal of the bladder and prostate for carcinoma through a suprapubic opening, 80; anatomical and technical reasons why the perineal is preferable to the suprapubic route in prostatic surgery, Moore, J. E., 80; permanent suprapubic drainage in advanced tuberculosis of the bladder, Powers, C. A., 80; curvilinear prerectal operation for abscess of the prostate gland, Ransohoff, J., 81; a consideration of uremia, Robey, W. H., 174, 188; decapsulation of the kidneys, Cabot, A. T., 456; decapitulation of the kidneys for nephritis, Elliot, J. W., 457; cases of prostatectomy with remarks on the operation, Thorndike, P., 233, 245; suprapubic cystotomy without distending the bladder, Crowell, S., 323; a study of the indications of nephropexy, Goelet, A. H., 620; some observations upon the value of the phloridzin test for estimating the functional capacity of he kidneys, renal sufficiency, Watson, F. S., and Bailey, W. T., 609; cryoscopy, Bailey, W. T., 612; a case of suture of divided ureter, recovery without leakage, Cabot, H., 644; errors in the estimation of urea by the hypobromite method, Joslin, E. P., 700.

Vaccination. A "vaccination number" of the British Medical Journal, 86; the preparation of animal vaccine, Smith, T., 197; vaccination, the technique, Darling, E. A., 201; vaccinations, accidents and untoward effects, McCollom, J. H., 203; legislation with reference to smallpox and vaccination, Abbott, S. W., 263; vaccination eruptions, Towle, H. P., 269; of school children, 475; production and control of vaccine virus and antitoxins, Wigate, 569; glycerinized vaccine lymph, Macdonald, W. G., 631; on giving certificates of vaccination, Greene, E. M., 687.

Vander Veer, A. The essentials of modern hospital construction, 109.

Van Giesen, I. Psychomotor epilepsy, 416.

Varicose Veins. Operative treatment of varicose veins, Blake, J. B., 347, 356.

Vaughan, V. C. Autogenous diseases, 51.

Vejux-Tyrode, M. Recent progress in pharmacology and physiological chemistry, 488.

Vineberg, H. N. The study and practical significance of lactation atrophy of the uterus, 466.

Virchow as a politician, 686.

Vivisection. Favill, H. B., 50.

Walsh, J. J. The salicylates in acute rheumatism, 77; symposium on colds, etiology, 619.

Walton, G. L. Study of the myospasms, myokymia, myoclonus-multiplex, myotonia, acquisita, intention spasm, 336; intention spasm, 340.

Warren, J. Demonstration of a model of the thoracic and abdominal viscera prepared from a human subject hardened in formalin, 177.

Watson, F. S., and Thorndike, P. Recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, 72.

Watson, F. S., and Bailey, W. T. Some observations upon the value of the phloridzin test for estimating the functional capacity of the kidneys, renal sufficiency, 609.

Webb, R. Legal tests of responsibility, 460.

Webster, G. W. The etiology of acute articular rheumatism, 75.

Weigel, L. A. The anatomical changes in severe cases of scoliosis as demonstrated in the living subject, 333.

Wells, E. F. Endocarditis as a complication of pneumonia, 50.

Wende, G. W. An unusual case of epidermolysis bullosa hereditaria, 525.

Wentworth, A. H. The importance of milk analysis in infant feeding, 5.

Westminster Abbey. A physician's corner at Westminster Abbey, 222.

White, C. J. The clinical study of four hundred and eighty-five cases of nail disease, 526, 537.

White, W. H. Electricity, its use in gynecology, 148, 159.

Whitman, R. The treatment of congenital dislocation of the hip, 332.

Whittier, F. N. Culture methods in diphtheria, 438.

Wilbur, C. L. Progress of the movement for uniform statistics of causes of death, 571; birth registration, 571.

Wilkins, G. C. Tuberculosis at the Long Island Hospital, 579.

Willard, De F. Address before the American surgical association, 78.

Williams, F. H. Good effects of the X-rays in Hodgkin's disease not permanent, 365.

Wilson, R. N. The casual relation of blood poverty to gastric ulcer with report of an illustrative case with atypical findings, 23.

Wingate. Production and control of vaccine virus and antitoxins, 569.

Withington, C. F. A clinical study of one hundred and thirty-five cases of empyema based on the bacteriological findings in the exudate, 505.

Women as professors in Italy, 167.

Wyman, M. "Animal Mechanics," 502.

Yellow Fever. Method of stamping out yellow fever suggested since 1899, Finlay, C. T., 570.

Young, A. G. The management of infectious diseases, 461.

Young, C. D. The rôle of the physician, 607.

Young, J. K. The operative treatment of hip-joint disease, 331.

Young physicians, 191.

Zeisler, J. Radio therapeutic observations, 549.